

SAY!

(By CHARLES J. ARNOLD)

Just say the word and that word is—HOT.

Late Sunday afternoon I was driving out in the country and in passing through Fillmore I saw a man holding a woman on his lap, right out in the front yard.

Now, I do not know, but I'm just that much of a gambler, that I would wager they were "fresh" married.

And here is my reasoning. If they were not married the front yard would be too public a place for a "courtin'" party, and if they had been married long—well, why go into detail.

Seems to me like we had a fine rain Sunday morning. And all the farmers will agree with me on that.

Two of Greenville's young women, who soon are to start on a vacation trip to New York, has asked of me that in view of my broad experience in travel I outline for them some travel rules, applicable to young women, who are traveling alone, and who will, during the course of their travel visit several large cities, including New York. Most gladly I accede to their request.

It is always advisable in starting on a long trip, to take along a nice box lunch. A shoe box is a most satisfactory lunch carrier. In preparing the lunch, jelly sandwiches, bananas and thoroughly ripened peaches are most desirable. Ginger bread or ginger snaps add much toward making the lunch appetizing.

Upon entering the train, it is always advisable to choose a seat facing the front. By this you may avoid the annoyance of car sickness, which often causes much grief, not only to the victim, but to other passengers.

Be sure to leave the suitcase extended well into the aisle.

Do not talk to strangers and especially do not permit anyone, especially traveling salesmen, to carry your grip or make any other advances.

Be careful not to lose your ticket. It is wise, especially for inexperienced travelers, to carry a goodly supply of safety pins. These may be used in pinning your ticket and other valuables to the under side of the outer garments. The ticket should be pinned separately from the money or other valuables, in order that in securing it to present to the conductor you will not expose to the public the whereabouts of the purse, and vice versa.

It is nice to carry a small sofa pillow while traveling as they come in mighty handy when one tires of viewing the scenery from the train window and desires to take a restful nap.

Do not stick your head out of the car window.

During your train trip, constantly keep your eye on your suit case and bundles, for one never knows when some designing person might pilfer same.

Every time the conductor passes through the train, ask him what time you will reach New York. This will impress upon him the fact that New York is your destination, and he will be sure not to carry you through.

Make frequent trips to the water cooler in the end of the car for a drink. This will break the monotony of long travel.

If either the conductor or brakeman are in your vicinity when the train stops at a station, be sure to inquire of them the name of the town. This will assure them that you are observing and interested in the trip, and will no doubt cause them to make every effort to make your journey a pleasant one.

Be sure to keep the window at your seat open. Cinders and smoke blowing in to the car give it a truly "travel air", makes a train ride more realistic, besides adding greatly to the enjoyment of the passenger sitting just behind you. If he should happen to complain that the cinders are too hot, simply tell him that he can change his seat, as you have paid your fare and are entitled to all privileges.

MERCHANT BOOSTER'S BASEBALL TEAM TAKES TILT YESTERDAY — TO MEET STILESVILLE THERE NEXT SUNDAY

Behind the masterful pitching of Target, newly acquired moundsman the Greenville Merchant Booster's baseball nine turned back the Hoosier Cubs, last Capital City colored team Sunday afternoon at Linedale park. The final score was 9 to 6 in favor of the local boys.

Seven hits were charged against the Greenville slabsmen but at least three of these should have been easy outs. The Greenville team made a total of five errors in the tilt. Target is credited with nine strikeouts, while the visiting pitcher chalked up seven. Only three errors are recorded against the colored boys.

The seventh inning was the big frame for manager Abel's boys. In this inning they were able to push six runs over the plate. The Greenville players only nicked Jackson, visiting pitcher for six hits, but they were properly bunched to collect the needed runs.

Next Sunday afternoon the Merchant Booster's team will go to Stilesville where they will meet the Stilesville nine. YOUTH TAKEN INTO CUSTODY AFTER THEFT

HAROLD GARDNER IS CAUGHT STEALING GOODS DELIVERED TO THE WILLIAM KOCHER RESTAURANT

KNAUER MAKES ARREST
After Restaurant Owner Reports Numerous Small Thefts to Police—
Youthful Habitual Criminal Is Nabbed

Harold "Gat" Gardner, about 18 years old of Greencastle was arrested this morning about 5 o'clock by police officer George Knauer, who it is alleged caught youth robbing a basket of food from the Luetteke Bakery company which had been delivered to the William Kocher Restaurant.

The youth was immediately lodged in the Putnam county jail. Early this morning the only charge that had been filed against him was a charge of vagrancy.

Gardner is a habitual petty criminal, and has been warned by the police and Mayor W. L. Denman on several occasions that unless he found employment or attempted to find employment he would be taken into custody. The youth has been without a visible means of support for some time.

Mr. Kocher reported to the police Sunday that on numerous occasions he had missed things from the basket of goods delivered to him every morning by the bakery company. The goods are delivered before the restaurant is opened.

This morning officer Knauer decided to watch and soon after the goods were delivered nabbed young Gardner.

In the big sodomy trial held in the Putnam circuit court slightly over a year ago Gardner figured largely as a witness for the state, and he has a name among local hoodlums as a "sonawker."

Following the trial last year Gardner served a 30 day jail sentence on a charge of bootlegging. He was also accused of breaking open and robbing penny gum and peanut machines.

GUARD IS SENT TO STRIKE-TORN MICHIGAN TOWN

EFFORTS TO CONCILIATE STRIKING AUTOMOBILE WORKERS IN FLINT, MICHIGAN FAIL—4,000 WORKERS PARTICIPATE IN WALK-OUT

FLINT, Mich., July 7. — (INS)—Police and state troopers, who have been in command of strike-torn Flint where more than 4,000 automobile factory workers have walked out for a higher wage scale, were further supplemented by Michigan National guardsmen today.

Police Chief C. J. Scavarda is in charge of the situation. The leader of the strikers is Cecil Comstock.

About 200 men returned to work today. It was the smallest number of men to report since the inauguration of the strike 13 days ago.

Latest efforts to end the walk out have failed. A committee representing the strikers unanimously voted to reject the company's offer to restore the 1929 wage scale.

"We will give every man the same wage scale he received last year," said R. J. Whiting, General manager of the Fisher body company. "In addition, I guarantee these prices will not be cut for six months."

"We have lived on promises for a year," said a woman member of the executive committee just before that body turned "thumbs down" on the conciliation proposal.

Mrs. Ax suffered a fractured skull, a broken collar bone and internal injuries. She succumbed in the Clay county hospital, where she was taken immediately following the crash early this morning.

SAYS REPORTERS ARE LINKED WITH POLITICAL GRAFT

ST. LOUIS NEWSPAPERMAN CHARGES THAT CHICAGO WRITERS ARE INTERESTED IN GANG ACTIVITIES

WILL BE SUBPOENAED

Alleged Slayer of Lingle Will Fight Extradition to Chicago, A Los Angeles Dispatch States

CHICAGO, July 7. — (INS)—State's attorney John A. Swanson today announced he will subpoena Harry T. Brundidge, staff writer of the St. Louis Star, for questioning on his charges that some reporters for Chicago newspapers are linked with political graft and gang activities.

Brundidge, who recently wrote a series of articles calling certain unnamed newspapermen a brand of racketeer, had offered to substantiate his claims before the grand jury.

"I will call this man to determine how much truth there is to his story, with a view to prosecution," Swanson said.

"If any criminal offense have been committed, or should this man's story prove to be nothing but loose gossip, I shall say so. I shall seek to ascertain the truth without fear or favor."

Two evening newspapers here have carried front page editorials demanding Brundidge be "called".

Charles Rathburn, counsel for the Tribune, who has been acting on a special "Board of strategy" since the murder of Alfred Lingle, Tribune Reporter, four weeks ago, today indicated that he would have nothing to do with the newspaper quiz.

Rathburn irritably declined to state what progress had been made in the Lingle investigations. Since his assassination Lingle has been linked with the gangs and dubbed "Chicago's unofficial Chief of Police."

Dispatches from Los Angeles today indicated that Frankie Foster, reputed buyer of the gun with which the Tribune reporter was slain, would seek to evade extradition to Chicago through a habeas corpus writ. Facts pertinent to the Lingle killing, with testimony which possibly will lead to indictments, are expected to be laid before the July grand jury sometime this week.

Glories of Mighty St. Lawrence Unfold En Route to Europe

• DUCHESS OF ATHOLL PASSING QUEBEC BRIDGE •

Many Americans are well acquainted with the beauties of the Hudson River, that majestic stream discovered by Hendrik Hudson in 1609, but comparatively few of Uncle Sam's citizens are familiar with the St. Lawrence. Canada's great water-way to Europe, a route which is becoming more and more popular as travel to the other side increases. This mighty water boulevard extends 1,000 miles inland, and 20,000 ton liners such as the new Canadian Pacific "Duchess" ships have no difficulty in navigating up to Montreal, Canada's great Metropolis. The St. Lawrence seaway to Europe is popular for many reasons, not the least important being the fact that for more than two days of the voyage at least, it is impossible to be seasick because the steamer is travelling between the banks of the sheltered river and Gulf.

One of the most picturesque stretches of this voyage is between Montreal and Quebec, the "Ancient Capital." It has its thrills, too, for as the ship leaves the former port it passes under a huge bridge and the voyager gets the illusion that the ship's mast will be snapped off at its base; then in the middle, but finally he is amazed to see his great liner pass underneath with a 12-foot clearance between the masthead and the steel structure. The same impression is created when approaching the great Quebec Bridge, near Quebec City.

Picturesque French-Canadian villages with Old World names and venerable churches; ancient windmills which are still used to grind corn; narrow channels hemmed in on either side by dense forests; queer river craft, flashing-buoys and other interesting sights thrill the voyager as he basks in the sunlight, comfortably seated in his deck chair. At Father Point the ship slackens speed to drop the pilot, then the Gulf is entered and four days later the traveler reaches Europe.

The largest liners plying to and from Canada, the Canadian Pacific "White Empresses," sail to and from Quebec, Cherbourg and Southampton during the summer season. This first-class fleet will soon be augmented by a new 42,000-ton giant, the Empress of Britain, launched by H. R. H. the Prince of Wales on June 11. This vessel is expected to go from port to port in slightly under five days.

Stop Us If You've Heard This One

"My dear, I simply dread this daily shopping!" How many times have you heard that story? More than once, we'll bet a hat. And if you ask the woman who "dreads shopping" just why she does so you'll usually hear something like this:

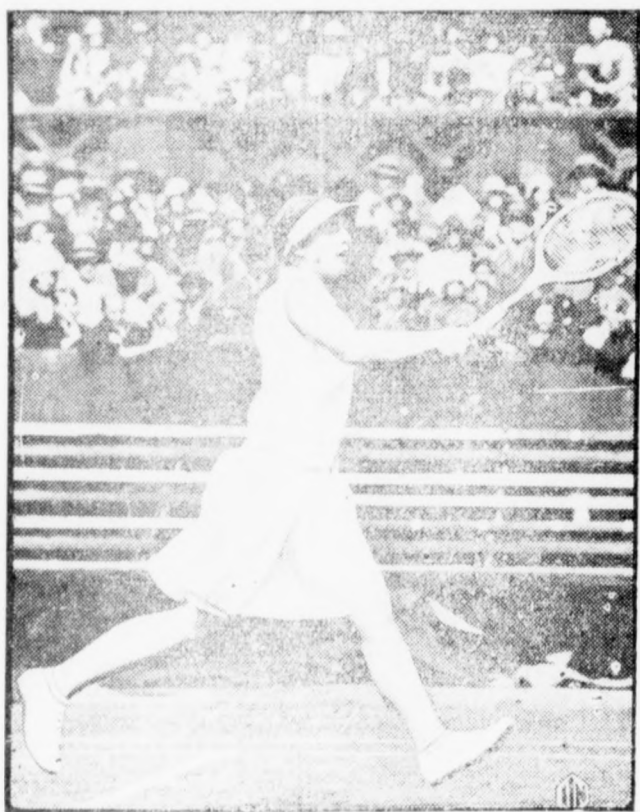

"It takes so much time! I start out and look and look—and by the time I've found what I want I'm dead on my feet. All in, my dear, I mean I actually am!"

You can do a friend like that a real service. Ask her if she reads the advertisements. Usually she'll look surprised and say, "Not very often. What has that to do with it?"

Tell her how you have your mind all made up before you hang the market basket over your arm—how you're able to save steps, budget your expenditures neatly, get what you want—and all with a minimum of time and effort. Simply because you have the news of the shopping world at your fingertips all the time by reading the advertisements very day.

Advertisements are news. Vital, practical news. News you need to keep on tap. Read the advertisements every day.

Gotham Leads in Rush To Matrimonial Bliss

Deputy Clerk in Ten Years Ties Knot for 125,000 Couples.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Marriage is a joy to some and a burden to others, but to J. J. McCormick, matrimony is merely the biggest part of a day's work.

During the ten years, Mr. McCormick has been deputy clerk of the New York City marriage license bureau, he has draped the legendary "hall and chain" over 250,000 men and women.

Brides and grooms of all creeds, colors, religions, ages and temperaments have been united by this emotional, fat man who presides over the famous "nuptial altar" in the Municipal building.

Considering the serious nature of these contracts, the binding process is completed at an amazing rate of speed.

June of course is the most favored month. One hot Saturday no less than 112 couples were wed by the fast-working Mr. McCormick. The record for marriage licenses issued in a single day is 216.

Naturally the marriage clerk under such conditions has no time to impart fatherly advice or caution the participants against quarreling over who will dry the dinner dishes. Clerk McCormick works so fast that the knot is tied before the dazed couple realize it.

The license costs two dollars and an extra two dollar bill pays for the ceremony itself. Some frugal couples seem to think this charge exorbitant. Others have to borrow from their witnesses to pay the moderate fee.

The marriage license room is on a separate floor from the "altar." Here one enters and waits his or her turn with other couples.

After the necessary data has been filled in, the blushing pair are led upstairs. Here there are more couples waiting. When your turn comes, you are ushered into a small room, decorated by two sickly looking palms.

Here the impassive Mr. McCormick says the necessary words. On very busy days he talks faster than Floyd Giddons. Before the groom can answer the question of "whether he takes this woman for his lawful wedded wife?" the official is querying the bride on her willingness to be married then and there.

McCormick asks for the ring, has it slipped on the lady's finger, the groom is ordered to "kiss the bride," and the ritual has been solemnized.

Newly can pay McCormick something for his trouble or not, just as they choose. Most of them merely mumble "thanks" and stumble out in to the sunshine to ponder over the rapidity with which they were wed "until death do ye part."

Record Makers Land After 23 Days in Air

Fired, grimy but happy were Kenneth and John Hunter after they broke the world endurance flight record by keeping the "City of Chicago" aloft for 554 hours. A broken oil gauge caused them to make a forced landing at 6:21 P. M. on the Fourth of July. The old record established by the St. Louis Robin was 420 hours. (Left to right) Gladys Hodam, a friend of the Hunter family; Al Hunter of the refueling ship, "Big Ben"; Kenneth Hunter and John Hunter, the record holders;

DEPAUW NOTES

DePauw university, with the largest scholarship foundation in the world, has granted more than 250 scholarships to high school students to enable them to enroll with the freshman class in September. The largest number ever given before was last year when 270 scholarships were granted. Dr. Henry B. Longden, director of the foundation, expects a new record to be established this year. Awards are based entirely upon high school records of students.

Two new additions to the DePauw university School of Music faculty have been announced by Dean R. G. McCutchan. They are Isabella Gauld of Crawfordsville, who will assist Prof. R. K. Unfleeth with public school music, and Miss Margaret Dennis, also from Crawfordsville, who will teach voice in the place of Mrs. Pierson Sage, resigned.

Only one Greek letter organization on the DePauw campus plans to change residence for next year. Phi Omega Pi will move from its present residence to a house next to the Delta Zeta property. The Delta Zetas now live in the Towers, former home of the DePauw presidents and at one time the Delta Upsilon home. Delta Zeta members plan construction of a new home on their property, construction to begin yet this year.

Robert Kimberlin, Danville, is doing the field work among alumni and high school students for DePauw university this summer. Mr. Kimberlin was graduated from DePauw in June and was given the Walker cup as having done most to bring renown to the university. His father is a Methodist pastor formerly located at South Bend.

Coach Donovan C. "Tubby" Moffett new head of the department of physical education and varsity basketball coach, is at Columbia university this summer working toward his Master's degree in physical education.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., July 7.—When a cow belonging to a local farmer tried to dispute the right of way with an automobile driven by Professor S. C. Davisson of Indiana University here, she was thrown to the pavement and neatly dehorned.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 7.—(INS)—Police here today were investigating the complaint of three pretty girls, June Floyd, Gatha McGurty and Grace Osborne, that a woman who claimed she was Louise Glenn had swindled them out of $2 each with a fake job offer.

The girls told police they heard that the woman wanted to hire some girls to work as a Barbecue stand which she claimed she was about to open near Brazil, Ind. She looked the girls over according to their story, told them "they would do" and demanded a deposit of $2 from each of them on a uniform which each girl would have to wear.

The woman has not been located by the girls since they paid the deposits.

BLUE RIDGE, Indiana, July 7.—(INS)—Although run over by a tractor while sleeping in a wheat field, little three-year-old Kenneth Gahimer was alive today and recovering from comparatively minor injuries.

The tot followed his father Edward Gahimer, farmer living northeast of here, to the wheat field. Finding a cozy spot in the grain the youngster curled up and fell asleep.

Ignorant of boy's presence his father drove the tractor over the spot where the child slept.

By a miracle the baby escaped a horrible death. It suffered only two deep cuts on the right shoulder and on the right leg and was bruised about the body but there were no internal injuries and no bones broken.
